

For Twenty-Six Years

Mrs. Lamaster, of Kentucky, Suffered with Internal Cataract and was Finally Relieved by Peruna.

MRS. W. W. LAMASTER.

"I SUFFERED for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so, and am thankful to say that eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Manalin entirely cured me of that trouble, and I am as well as ever."—Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAtee Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Cataract Causes Kidney Disease.

Cataract is a frequent cause of kidney disease. The pelvis of the kidneys, as well as the tubules, is lined with mucous membrane, and is therefore subject to catarrhal congestion. Sometimes the catarrh is so slight as to cause no attention. Other times it leads up to very serious conditions.

Any remedy capable of mitigating the catarrh is a much more rational treatment than to give palliatives that only relieve the patient of one or more disagreeable symptoms.

It is claimed for Peruna that it is an internal systemic catarrh remedy, and reaches the catarrh in whatever organ it happens to be located.

"I was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels by taking Peruna. I am glad to recommend Peruna to any one."—Mrs. J. J. Cross, 603 Water St., San Antonio, Texas.

THOMAS HARDY 70 YEARS OLD

London, June 2.—Thomas Hardy, the celebrated novelist, had a quiet celebration of his seventieth birthday today at his quiet old home at Max Gate, near Dorchester, in the very heart of the country which he has made familiar to readers the world over. Much has been said and written about Mr. Hardy's works, but very little is known generally of the man himself. He is said to be a most difficult man to approach, and the story is told how a pertentious American autograph-seeker who visited Max Gate in quest of an addition to his collection was almost overcome by the shock when the famous novelist received his visitor most graciously and presented him with several autograph copies of his best-known works. One of Mr. Hardy's eccentricities is his habit of invariably wearing two waistcoats. In severe weather, it is said, the famous author, has been known to don as many as four, but even on the hottest summer day he sticks to his two, the outside one being generally of the old-fashioned knitted sort.

PRESIDENT OFF FOR SHORT TRIP

Washington, D. C., June 2.—President Taft, accompanied by his military aide, secretary, stenographer and four secret service officers, left the capitol today to fulfill several out-of-town engagements he entered into several months ago. His trip will occupy three days, during which time he will travel approximately 1,500 miles. His first stopping point is Bryn Mawr, Pa., where he is to attend the commencement exercises this afternoon of Bryn Mawr college, where Miss Helen Taft is a student. From Bryn Mawr the President will proceed to Ada, Ohio, to attend another college commencement, that of the Northern Ohio University. Tomorrow evening will find Mr. Taft in Detroit to deliver an evening address, and the whole of the following day will be devoted to Michigan. He will pay a short visit to Jackson and will then go to Monroe to be present at the unveiling of the General Custer monument. From the latter point the Presidential party will return direct to Washington.

PLAINFIELD HORSE SHOW

Plainfield, N. J., June 2.—Many prominent visitors from New York, Philadelphia, Newark and other cities were in attendance today at the opening of the seventh annual exhibition of the Plainfield Horse Show Association. The exhibition, which will last through the remainder of the week, eclipses all previous shows of its kind here both in the number and high class of entries. All classes are well filled, including the roadsters, harness horses, saddle horses, hunters and jumpers.

***The annual convention of the Knox county Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Fredericktown on June 10 and 11. A fine program has been prepared.

Fly Catches.

When Connie Mack let Jimmy Walsh get away from him he lost a live one. This lad is knocking the boards off the fence at Baltimore.

On July 25, 1896, Harry Davis played first base for Pittsburgh against the Giants. He's the Harry Davis who is still playing with the Athletics.

Bob Gilks, who is one of the best scouts in the business and one of the best judges of ball players, says that half of the success of Ty Cobb is due to his nerve and confidence in himself.

Daubert, Brooklyn's new first baseman is one of the numerous crop of left handed men who are now taking jobs on first. He is not a Hal Chase in speed, but is a wonder on long foul flies and a whale of a batter.

No professional player wears a mustache now. It's an unwritten rule of the profession to play the game without either beard or mustache. Outfielder Tius of the Phillies was the last National league player to discard his mustache. He had it removed two years ago.

Tales of Cities.

As regards area New York city is the largest in the United States. It covers 323½ square miles as compared with 100½ for Chicago and 129½ for Philadelphia.

The streets of Canton are divided into sections of a few blocks each, and each section is shut off from all others by heavy gates that are closed at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Troy, N. Y., has a huge water wheel sixty feet in diameter, with buckets twenty-two feet long and six feet deep. It was constructed in 1833, and the people will not permit it to be destroyed, although it no longer serves any useful purpose.

Family Reunion

A Pleasant Event
The annual reunion of the Larimore-Hawkins families was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wintermute near Mt. Liberty on Wednesday. A large number of relatives assembled to take part in the reunion, there being one hundred and fifty-one in all, some coming from the following places: Columbus, Delaware, Sunbury, Centerville, Croton, Johnstown, Granville, Homer, Brandon, Mt. Vernon and Black Lick, Ohio. A big dinner was served in the front yard at noon under a large tent. This is the usual way in which dinner is eaten at the reunion and in spite of the disagreeable weather, this plan was carried out. After the dinner, all present repaired to the large home of Mr. and Mrs. Wintermute where the business meeting was held. The following officers were elected:

President—James Larimore of Centerville.
Vice President—Reese Patten of Homer.

Secretary—C. W. Wintermute of Mt. Liberty.
Treasurer—J. S. Yount of Homer.

Historian—W. A. Wintermute of Mt. Liberty.

A number of addresses were made by the following persons present: Rev. W. H. Eglin, Dr. F. C. Larimore, John Larimore, Jehl Detrick and William Barnard. A reading was given by Mrs. C. W. Wintermute.

It was decided to hold the next reunion one year from this date at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patten at Homer.

Lewis-Morrison

Nuptials

Dr. William F. Lewis, a well-known practicing physician and surgeon of this city, was united in marriage Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock at Bedell mission to Miss Frances Morrison, daughter of Mr. William Morrison of near Gambier. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Davies of Gambier, the ring service of the Episcopal church being used. The bride was given away in marriage by her brother, Mr. Anthony Morrison. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Chase. Following the ceremony a most delicious supper was served, attended by only the immediate relatives and a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties. Dr. and Mrs. Lewis drove to Mt. Vernon and left on the 8:50 train for a trip up the lakes and after a short period will go to housekeeping in Mt. Vernon. They have the best wishes of their many friends.

Entertained

With Hearts
Miss Caroline McFadden delightfully entertained about twenty of her friends at her home on South Gay street Wednesday evening with a progressive hearts party. Five tables were filled during the evening. The prize was won by Miss Helen Porter. Those entertained by Miss McFadden were the members of the Monday Evening Whist Club, but on this occasion, hearts was played instead of whist. Miss Louise Arndt of Chicago was an out of town guest present during the evening. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the club at the home of Miss Lola Patterson on East Burgess street on the evening of the 13th of June.

BROWN'S PARTNER.

The All Around Genius That Would Just Fill the Bill.

The following is quoted from the American Magazine and is signed by H. Lee:

"Here's the whole thing in a nutshell," said Brown to me. "I am now twenty-eight years old, have my own business and have brought it to such a state that I have decided to take a partner."

"Take one," answered I.

"There's the rub," he gave back.

"My partner must be such an all around knowing one that I'm afraid I'll have hard work to fill the position."

"My partner must be able to make laws and to enforce them, must be able to carry out complicated chemical work, must be a skilled mechanic, must know something of economics, must be able to buy wares of all kinds with due consideration of my finances and must be able to do tailoring of a kind if necessary."

"Hold on, Brown!" said I. "Are you dippy, as the vulgarians say?"

"No," replied he. "I want a wife. Look around among your friends and see if any one man among them could do all that a good housewife should be able to do. She must make just laws for the family and enforce them. She must understand the complicated processes of cooking. Making, mending, washing, ironing and otherwise caring for the clothing of a family require mechanical skill. Bringing up a child properly requires far more knowledge and wisdom than selling dry goods of standard makes and prices year after year. Where are more science and skill required than in the sickroom? And if the wife does not know how to do all of these things how can she direct the work of her paid help, especially if the help knows less than she does?"

"My dear boy," said I, "do the way 90 per cent of us do—marry and trust to luck."

A Gentleman and Boots.

The "first gentleman in Europe" got the very worst definition of a gentleman from his valet when driving down to Brighton. The prince regent was arguing about the gentleman and finally turned to his valet. And the valet replied that a gentleman was one who did not clean his own boots. It was a funny rep. One likes better the demand of the Duke of Wellington. "Give me men who can sleep in their boots."—London Graphic.

Snubbed.

Hamm—Do you recognize the profession? Ticket Man—Yes, but if you'll stand out of the line quietly I won't give you away.—Cleveland Leader.

A Born Leader.

"He's born to be a leader," his parents fondly said. As proudly they beheld him upon his downy bed. "See how his forehead bulges!" exclaimed his doting dad. "His jaw is shaped exactly like that Napoleon had."

"He's born to be a leader," they said with honest joy. That time he bossed the household while he was yet a boy. And they were right in thinking him sent to have command. He has become a leader—he leads a village band.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

More "Hand-me-downs."

Many a lad can sympathize with the point of view of the Kansas boy who had always been obliged to wear his father's castoff clothing, cut down and made over. According to a writer in the Wichita Star, he was found crying behind the barn and when asked what the matter was replied:

"Pa's gone and shaved his face clean, and now I suppose I'll have to wear all them red whiskers."—Youth's Companion.

New Version.

Mary had a little lamb, And Willie had a dog, But it was the young man Peterkin who had the fine times, automobiles, The box at the opera, Friends, influence, the fine mansion in the fashionable quarter, servants, Tours of the world And the fine fling all around. For Peter had a hog.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Her Assets.

A county assessor was making a canvass for personal tax assessments. He called at the home of a widow in the Second ward and in a polite way said:

"Madam, I'm the personal tax assessor. What have you got?" "I've got two children and the rheumatism," said the widow, and she slammed the door in his face.—Kansas City Star.
